With the judges busily engaged in allotting prizes and making their reports as fast as their work progresses, things at the fair grounds are daily growing more strenuous. The great interest in the fair naturally is centered in the decisions of the judges, and consequently each exhibitor at the fair is awaiting with great impatience the conclusion of

The work of judging the exhibits in the The work of judging the exhibits in the short-horned cattle division of department "B", department "C," embracing sheep, swine, goals, etc., department "I," embracing minerals, and department "I," embracing dry goods, etc., was completed last night, and the judges submitted their reports thereupon. The list of awards in these departments will be found below.

Weber County Day. Wednesday being Weber county day at Wednesday being Weber county day at the fair, there was an unusually large representation from that section of Utah in attendance. The Weber folks were greatly pleased with the fair, and naturally were very enthusiastic over the exhibits from their section. The representation from Weber county, however, was not the only crowd at the fair. As a matter of fact, there was apparently just as many people from the other counties, and they were just as enthusiastic. It was estimated that the attendance yesterday and last night thusiastic. It was estimated that the attendance yesterday and last night equaled that of Tuerday, which numbered nearly 12,000. As the travel from all parts of the State to Sait Lake City, incident to the annual conference of the Mormon church, which begins tomorrow, is daily increasing, it is reasonable to assume that the crowds at the fair will grow larger every day until it closes.

Dog Show Opens.

The feature of the programme of yes-terday was the opening of the first an-nual dog show which will, in the future he held yearly in connection with the State fair. The beach exhibit is by far State fair. The bench exhibit is by far one of the greatest successes contributed to the success of the fair, and it was evident by the attention it attracted yesterday that there are many lovers and fanciers of dogs in Utah.

It is to be regretted that the building sillotted to the dog show is not sufficient to accommodate ait the dogs that could have been entered. So great was the requests for space in the building that the fair officials were compelled to turn away a great many canines that were offered for display. The exhibit, however, is praiseworthy and extensive, and will undoubtedly prove one of the drawing cards of the fair.

Work of School Children.

Work of School Children.

In attracting the attention of the visitors to the fair the exercises of the pupils of the State normal and training schools led everything else. The persons schools led everything eine. The persons interested in the school work, however, were of an entirely different set than those who lingered among the canines. For the most part, they were the parents and relatives of the competitors in this branch of the exhibits. The work of the pupils is interesting and truly marvelous, and they are deserving of great credit. Horse Racing Results.

Horse Racing Results.

APPEALS TO WOMEN

Urged to Help Lift the Cloud Hovering Over Utah.

ing Over Utah.

The following received at The Tribune office Wednesday is self-explanatory:

Daughters of the far-famed South, my greetings to you come in the form of a cry for help for the oppressed womanhood of Utah. I represent an organization of loyal Southern women who love the flag of their Southland, the Stars and Ears. I also represent an organization of loyal American women from every State in the Union, whose emblem is the flag of our united country, the Stars and Stripes. We hope to present to you in a few days a petition which I think will meet with your hearty approval, for I would not retain the thought for one moment that any Southern women could be any more lukewarm on this question of loyalty to the Nation than any of the North East or West. Our cause has been indersed by every national organization of women in the United States. I ask a unanimous vote; help us lift the cloud that hovers over our fair State.

WHY ENGLAND DECAYS

Emigration and Loss of Big Men in Wars Suggested.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 4 -President David Starr Jordan today addressed the student body on things that drew his at ention of his recent trip through Europe. In speaking of England he said that in his opin-ion the decadence of Great Britain over which many Englishmen are lamenting, is due to two things. One of these is the emigration to other countries of much of the best brain and brawn of England the other cause having been the death of thousands of England's best men in the numerous wars which that country has waged during the past century.
